

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy¹ covers the Rotary Action Group for Family Safety Inc ABN 81 485 026 434 (referred to as RAGFamSafe, “we”, “us” or “our”). We are committed to ensuring that when we collect and use information provided to us we do so in accordance with applicable data privacy legislation. This policy explains how we may use information about you that we obtain.

This policy applies to our web site and to all other means by which you provide us with information. It also applies to information collected using technology such as cookies, the IP addresses from which you connect to our site, and the time and date of visits to the site.

By providing us with your personal information you consent to our collection and use of this information for the purposes described in this policy.

We use your information to maintain our relationship with you, to maintain and update our records, to allow you to use or access features of our site, to provide you with information and to measure effectiveness of services we provide and to improve what we offer to you and others who use our site. In order to ensure that your information is accurate and up to date, please advise us of any changes to your information.

The transmission of data using the internet is not completely secure and its transmission by you is at your own risk. Once your information is received, we will take all reasonable steps to prevent unauthorized access to it. Third parties maintain our web site and data storage. We will require that these providers provide appropriate security to protect information that we collect, but we cannot guarantee its security.

In addition, our website may include links to other websites. We are not responsible, nor do we necessarily endorse all of the contents of those sites. If you are going to provide your information to providers of other sites, you should read their privacy policies before providing your information to them.

We do not trade or rent out to third parties the information collected via our website. We will not otherwise provide your information to others unless disclosure is required by law or a court order.

You have the right to obtain details of your personal information held by us, and have any inaccuracies in your information corrected. You may also request us to delete your information from our databases by contacting us using the details provided below. We will use all reasonable efforts to respond to your requests within 30 days.

We may need to change this policy to reflect changes in our practices, technology or the law. Any changes will come into effect when an updated policy is posted to our website. You should review this page regularly to ensure you are aware of any changes.

If you have a complaint about how your personal information is handled, you can contact us using the details below. We take your complaints seriously and we will attempt to resolve any issues quickly and fairly. If we cannot resolve your complaint to a satisfactory standard, you are entitled to lodge your complaint in the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner at: <https://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-complaints/>
